"What A Life" Huge Success As 1946 Senior Comedy

LUCAS LEADS CAST
AS HENRY ALDRICH

The class of 1946 presented as its senior play "What a Life," the original Henry Aldrich comedy in three acts by Clifford Goldsmith, at the William Bingham Gymnasium on Friday evening, April 12. Under the very capable direction of Mr. Thompson, the well chosen cast, numbering 22 in the curtain call presented one of Gould's most successful and popular dramatic productions.

Bradford Lucas led the cast with a fine performance as the pathetic but lovable Henry Aldrich, a city high school junior whom life and the process of growing up push on from one complicated situation to another. With his squeaking voice and adolescent slouch, Henry finally manages to surmount his uncomfortable circumstances and the confused exasperation of his mother and his high school principal, played by Priscilla Goggin and Stanley Judkins.

Dexter Stowell was especially well liked in his role of Mr. Nelson, the understanding assistant principal who tries to get Henry straightened out along with his own romantic problems, which concern the chilly but attractive school secretary, Miss Shea, well played by Judy Cole. Francis Bean, Marilyn Noyes and Virginia Scattergood played veteran teachers with assorted complexes which make life difficult for themselves and especially their victims, who, of course, include Henry.

SENIOR STAFF MEMBERS AWARDED CERTIFICATES

The senior members of the BLUE AND GOLD staff were awarded certificates by Mr. Ireland last Thursday in recognition of their fine and loyal work on the school paper. Awards were given to the following 22 members: Margery Ann Howard, Editor; Ruth Ault, Barbara

GOOD FRIDAY ASSEMBLY

A special morning assembly was held on April 19, 1946, for the observance of Good Friday. The Reverend Mr. John J. Foster gave an interesting talk comparing a person's life to a marathon auto race. He said that as the automobiles must be stopped at regular intervals for refueling and repairs, so people must pause in their daily life for spiritual rejuvenation. Two numbers from the Crucifixion were played. The soloists, Richard Crooks and Laurence Tibbett, were accompanied by the Trinity Choir. The last of these two numbers was, "God So Loved The World," a well known anthem.

JUNIOR PROM MAY 6; RAFNELL BAND ENGAGED

JUNIORS PREDICT BEST PROM EVER

The juniors were not planning to have a prom this year, mainly because of many outside activities; but after much discussion the vote was finally passed, and the plans are going ahead at full speed. It will be formal as before. Music will be furnished by Lloyd Rafnell, a well known band leader and a favorite at Gould dances. The price of admission is $1.50 per couple and from all reports it will be worth it.

The different committees have been chosen and have begun to make their plans. The various committees and their members follow.

Decoration: Mary Plumer, Jo Gibson, Betsy Norton, Joyce Chipman, Sally Stowell and Lee Nary; program: Betsy Grandin, Mary Plumer and Janice Bowman; tickets: Russell Cram, Jack Hawley, Rebecca Philbrick, Isabelle Bennett and Janice Bowman; refreshments: Jack Libby, Rocky Giles and Richard Shields.

The annual Junior Prom will be held in the Bingham Gym on the evening of May tenth at 8:00 p. m.

Mr. Bowhay Returns After Serving In Army

CHAPMAN CLUB PERFORMS AT RUMFORD HIGH SCHOOL

At a recent meeting of the Chapman Club it was proposed that the club put on a program in some town other than Bethel. Myra Stickney was appointed to make arrangements for such a program. With the aid of Mr. Cohen, it was decided that certain members of the Chapman Club would entertain the students of Stephens High School in Rumford during the high school assembly period, Friday, April 26.

Miss Griggs and the program committee, consisting of Ruth Ault, chairman, Carolyn Van Dusen and Donald Brooks, arranged the following selections:

1. Morning — Myra Stickney, Virginia Potter, Ruth Ault, Judith Cole, Carolyn Van Dusen, Roy Lurvey, Francis Bean, Dexter Stowell, Ted Emery, pianist, Priscilla Ring.
2. Fantasie on Irish Airs
Clarinet solo, Roy Lurvey
Accompanist, Carolyn Van Dusen
3. I Must Go Down to the Sea
John Densmore
Baritone Solo, Ted Emery
Accompanist, Judy Cole
4. Rondo Capriccio
Mendelssohn
Piano solo, Marie White

Mr. George Bowhay returned to the Gould Campus on April 2, 1946. Mr. Bowhay has resumed his position at Gould as an instructor of business arithmetic, algebra I, and general mathematics. He is also Gould's new and very competent baseball coach.

A member of the Gould faculty from September, 1938, to November, 1942, he left to become a member of the Communications Section of an Air Service Group. He spent eight months on the island Leyte in the Philippines and four months on Honshu which is 35 miles from Tokyo. For a long time he was engaged in special service work at the Yokota Army Air Base in Japan. There he directed 100 Japanese workers in the construction of an athletic field for the base personnel. Mr. Bowhay received his discharge on February 15, 1946.

5. The Wind's in the South
John Prindle Scott
Soprano solo, Priscilla Goggin
Accompanist, Carolyn Van Dusen
6. Willow Echoes

Ted Emery, Dexter Stowell

Glee Clubs To Present Spring Concert Friday

The combined Glee Clubs, the band, and the orchestra will give a concert at the William Bingham Gymnasium on May third, at eight o'clock.

Among the musical numbers will be the prayer from "Hansel and Gretel," sung by the Girl's Glee Club. The Boys' Glee Club will sing four numbers, including two which they will sing at coming Western Maine Music Festival.

The Varsity will also sing numbers prepared for the festival.

The Band will play, in addition to the usual marches, "The Victory Overture" by Taylor, and the "Gold and Silver Waltz," by Lehár.

The orchestra is expected to give its usual excellent performance.

The whole concert will be conducted by Miss Griggs, the capable director of Gould's musical organizations.

SENIOR COMMENCEMENT COMMITTEES CHOSEN

The senior class resolved at a recent meeting to appoint a nominating committee to select the committees for commencement. This committee, which met with Miss Swift and Mr. Cluny, the class advisors and Mr. Ireland, had the time to consider appointments to the various committees more fully than would have been possible by an other arrangement.

The following list of committees was decided upon and made public: Commencement Speakers: Miss Dumais and the entire faculty as advisors; Dexter Stowell as chairman; M. Noyes, P. Ring, T. Emery, M. Howard, C. Bennett, and N. Lapham as members. Baccalaureate: Mr. Fossett as advisor; K. Shaughnessy as chairman; J. Murphy and B. Jordan as members. Commencement: Mr. Clunie as advisor; Davis Bur-

ANOTHER LAUREL

Another of our great advantages at Gould has been recently revealed to us. The Gould Academy health department has been chosen by the National Association of Secondary School Principals to be one of the finest of any school in the State of Maine. Because of this a survey of our health and physical fitness program is to be nationally publicized as a possible model for other schools that wish to improve their present health system.

Few of us have ever thought to look objectively at our excellent health system simply because we have become accustomed to taking our many advantages for granted. For our own personal information, let us look more closely.

Dr. Willard Boynton and Mrs. Vera Waterhouse are in charge of our health department here at Gould. The physical fitness of the students is in the hands of Mr. Richmond Roderick and Miss Barbara Newman.

Every student who enters Gould receives chest X-rays and immunization shots for all diseases against which he has not formerly been immunized, as well as thorough medical examinations yearly. In addition to this, everyone receives a thorough dental check-up by Dr. Brown each year. The field house with its well-equipped doctor's office is open to any and all students every afternoon. Dr. Boynton and Mrs. Waterhouse are on call at any time. Any dormitory student who becomes ill is immediately put under the competent care of the nurse and doctor, and is placed in the infirmary, be it Holden Hall or Gehring Hall. Furthermore, in case of any serious illness, the facilities of the Pratt Diagnostic Hospital in Boston are available at any time to both dormitory and day students.

After giving physical examinations and strength tests to find out the physical weaknesses of each individual student, Mr. Roderick and Miss Newman select those who need to take correctives. Corrective classes alternate every day with regular gym classes. In these are included various exercises, made out according to the need of the individual boy or girl, which help to improve posture and strengthen certain muscles. With the boys, only those in the freshman and sophomore classes must take correctives if they are needed. All girls' classes have a corrective group, but every freshman girl is required to take them. In the spring other strength tests are given which, when compared with the results of the fall tests, inevitably show a great deal of improvement.

Regular gym is required of all students except those excused by the doctor. Extra-curricular sports are optional.

Here, briefly, is an outline of our system of health and physical fitness. We can be justly proud that it has been selected as an example for other schools to follow. Now, for one more reason we can hold our heads high and say that we come from Gould!

Alumni Notes

The Gould campus has been crowded with ex-servicemen these last few weeks, and certainly no faces could be more welcome that those boys who graduated from Gould and left to fight for their country.

John Lawry, graduate of '43, who was in the Army Air Corps TCS as a radio operator on B-29's and C-47's in Japan, was the first of the returned GI's to be seen on the campus. It was strange to realize that only a few of us who were freshmen at the time he was graduated, knew him. John is to go Tufts' Technology or Harvard.

Up with him the same week end was David Hawkins, who left Gould in 1943 as the junior class president; entering the Army the same year. His diploma was given him in 1945 when he was still in the army. He has just come back from Neudrem, Germany, where he was stationed at the airfield as clerk. His college plans are as yet uncertain.

Lincoln Colby, another graduate of '43, left soon after school closed for the army. He was placed in the Medical Corps and was sent to the European theatre of war to drive an ambulance. He entered Marseilles with the 7th army, seeing a lot of hard fighting. He attended civilians and soldiers alike, as an assistant doctor, and was given the Bronze Star for bravery in action. He plans to go to pharmacy school in Boston this fall.

Robert Golderman, class of '43, trained in Georgia. He was unfortunately put in the infantry and was then sent to the Pacific. Although he has seen no action, he has spent most of his time on Oahu, Hawaii. He drove a jeep for some time while stationed at Oahu and Leyte, and returned to Hawaii last spring and was stationed as company clerk. He is getting out of the army this spring.

Bob Foster, graduate of '45, went directly into the navy to be trained as a radio technician. He worked at the Great Lakes print shop and was sent to the East coast for sea duty aboard a destroyer. He is now at Charleston and will be discharged in August; he plans to go to Bates in the fall.

GOULD REPRESENTED AT MUSIC FESTIVAL

Seven students chosen from the various music clubs of Gould Academy left for the New England Music Festival at New Britain, Conn., on March 22. The orchestra was represented by Myra Stickney, the band represented by Donald Brooks and Gene Van, and the glee club by Priscilla Goggin, Judy Cole, Barbara Galbraith, and Roy Lurvey. High schools from all over New England assembled at the Festival in order to present the annual New England Festival Concert. In all there were approximately 300 students representing their schools. And although New Britain is rather a large place the housing situation proved quite critical.

Upon arrival rehearsals were started immediately, but it wasn't until Thursday that the students began to acclimate themselves to the confusing city and to the many people. On Thursday and Friday the rehearsals, which were two hours long with three a day, were quite strenuous and long, but the students were rewarded with a dance on Friday night; also there was time between rehearsals and meals which was free to the students.

After three days practice the three different groups presented their concert to the public. The three conductors for the three groups were as follows: Albert W. Wassell conducting the orchestra, Charles A. Woodbury conducting the chorus, and Albert Dorr conducting the band. Because the seats and even the standing room had been sold out in the immense auditorium of New Britain High School, it was necessary to have a matinee. The groups did not perform as well in the afternoon as they did at night, but this was due to the nervousness of all the groups. The evening concert received much applause and was especially enjoyed.

MY WORK

Let me but do my work
from day to day
In field or forest, desk or loom,
In roaring market-place,
or tranquil room.
Let me but find it in my heart to say,
When vagrant wishes beckon
me astray,
This is my work, my blessing,
not my doom:
Of all who live I am the one by whom
This work can best be done
in my own way.
To suit my spirit and to prove my powers
Then shall I cheerfully greet the laboring hours
And cheerful turn when the long shadows fall
At eventide, to play, and
love, and rest,
Because I know for me
my work is best.
Henry Van Dyke

recooper her band instruments, which were supposedly stolen by the innocent Henry.

Small but important parts were taken by Gordon Bowman, a student who could have saved the whole situation had anyone listened to him; William Haines, the tattered Italian junk dealer, Vecchitto, who spends the three acts trying to find his daughter, but only succeeds in finding a very passive but polite negress, played by Roberta Packard; Pearl Daye, a muscular, exuberant gym teacher, who delights in the beautiful weather, the fresh air, etc.; Pauline Baker, who tries to sell Henry Spring Dance tickets. Extra students were played by Ruth Ault, Margery Ann Howard, Clare Tyler, Robert Bennett, and Edmond Dorian.

The set for "What a Life" was constructed by Mr. Foster and a stage crew headed by Lucia MacClintock. Musical numbers by the orchestra were directed by Miss Griggs.

Under the Cupola

Through the grapevine, we heard that one young fellow, Nick Armato to be more precise, uttered some not-to-be repeated phrases which aren't to be found in any dictionary, a-bridged or otherwise, when he gazed forth upon the pearly white snow one Saturday. It seems that the boys were planning to have a practice game with Rumford that day. If anyone had said that it was going to snow the night before, his life wouldn't have been worth a cent. But it did. The weather man isn't very popular around here.

It looks mighty fine to see the spikes of the track boys pounding the turf and to hear the incessant banter of the baseball fellows. Time has gone fast when you think back to some of those football games and try to believe that they were played way back last fall instead of two or three weeks ago. Ah yes, and those exams come along at a rather rapid rate, too. All too rapid. You no sooner wear off the smudge of the mid night oil than lo and behold, announcement that you dread, the one that forewarns you of the everloving things—exams—descends upon your two innocent, pink ears with a deafening roar. But what's to be done about it except shrug thy heavy laden shoulders and repeat the well-known line—"Here we go again!"

Girls of every class are being heard these days whistling, humming, or just murdering their respective songs for the Girls' Gym Meet. In fact, they have done all but request that the Boston Pops or the Philharmonic make a recording of their song, just for them. So they're good and we're awfully glad that your so proud of them, but this idea of considering yourselves second Johnny Mercers or Jerome Kerns is carrying things a little too far. Well, time will tell which song is the best.

Another sign of spring was what should be called the "Polar Bear Club"—those people (and they are to be admired, not scoffed at) who brave chill mountainous winds and dodge patches of snow to stretch their sun-thirsty bodies out. Haven't seen any beet-red faces or tawny arms yet, but it certainly isn't because they haven't tried. Expect them to pack a lunch, wrap their bathing suits in towels and, head for Songo at any minute.

Had a birthday party for Jean Murphy the other night, and viewed as assorted an array of food as was ever concocted. Limburger cheese, cake, peanut brittle, cheese-crackers, potato chips, milk, and crumbs of many other little odds and ends were thrown in. It tasted good, though.

If you want to see a funny sight, we would suggest that you follow some of the boys who are taking pictures for the Camera Club exhibition. We chanced upon one over at the chem lab and thought we'd pass it on to you. Picture if you will Dick Kimball standing on the table in his Saturday outfit, holding a bright light which is trying desperately to burn his hands. This light is shining on the bright face of Larry Clement (Did we misplace the bright?) who is diligently work-

Off the Record

Henry "Red" Allen makes his debut on Victor wax with four sides: "Get the Mop," "Buzz Me," "Drink Hearty," and "The Crawl." All the sides have J. C. Higgenbotham's trombone which should be heard more often. Jazz fans are also welcoming Steve Smith's return to the recording field with his H. R. S. cookies.

In the vocal department we have heard a Jack Leonard record which is to be released next month. "September Song," and "They Say It's Wonderful" are the sides by the ex-T. D. vocalist backed up by the Paul Baron ensemble. Ilene Barton and Jerry Jerome and his orchestra have waxed "Onesey Twosy" and "As If I Didn't Have Enough On My Mind."

ling over a bunsen which isn't burning. Oh yes, and LeRoy Dymont, with a peculiar sort of smile on his lovely face, is holding a piece of cardboard to shield the camera from the glare. Three or four lights are dangling around here and there, threatening to give Larry a sunburn. And last but not least, we find Martin Koon Bovey, who looks more like the wild man from Borneo, crouched behind the camera. Some picture!

The King Cole Trio gives us two good sides, "Sweet Georgia Brown," and "It's Better to Be." The former side is an all too rare instrumental number.

One of the best contests yet is the new Wildroot contest which gives the winner a thousand dollar bill and—get this!—The Woody Herman Band delivered anywhere in the United States to play a one night date. Here is your chance to get a big band for the Senior Prom and a little extra spending money.

Duke Ellington has entered the operatic field by writing a new score for the modernized version of "The Beggars' Opera," besides writing his own opera, "Boola," the story of the American negro.

Senior Girls Take Meet

With girls' gym filled to its capacity with spectators, the girls of Gould Academy displayed their skill in performing at the annual Girls' Gym Meet on Friday, April twenty six. The senior class took the first prize in class competition.

The Gym Meet commenced with the marching in of all four classes, forming a large square, and then everyone joined in singing the Gould Alma Mater.

Next followed the apparatus exhibition with Leslie Griffin, Betty Marshall, Judy Cole, Marie White, Marilyn Boyker, Mary Plumer, Norma Hunt, Carolyn VanDusen, Cella McAllister, Wilma Croteau, Jean Chipman, Pearl Daye, Eileen Littlehale, Susan Linsley, Betty Ward, Barbara Galbraith, Isabel Bennett, Neva Mundt, Janet Palmer, Joyce Chipman, Carol Swan and Ann Terriberry participating in it. Many of the spectacular stunts brought ohs and ahs from the audience, while Ann Terriberry received a big hand for an unusually tricky performance on the rings.

The interclass volleyball game between the sophomores and seniors, being one of the closest and most exciting, kept the observers and players tense and uncertain to who would be the victor. After a close battle all through the game, the sophomore players came out winners of the volleyball tournament by a few points.

The seventh grade was well practiced in its stunts, and the eighth grade cleverly performed two snappy square dances and a well versed tap dance.

In gymnastics, the seniors, led by Eileen Littlehale, the juniors led by Mary Plumer, the sophomores, led by Wilma Croteau, and the freshmen, led by Jane Kanaly showed the untiring efforts that had been put in to make their songs, formations, and exercises look skillful. The seniors came out the winners with the juniors following closely behind, while the freshmen beat the sophomores.

Last of the performances in the Gym Meet were the three numbers gracefully exemplified by the Modern Dance Club. "Capriccio," with modern movements, was demonstrated by J. Palmer, C. Beeken, G. Cutting, N. Hunt, S. Lang, B. Norton, S. Stowell, and M. Waterhouse. "I've Got Plenty O' Nuthin'," a humorous colored dance, was acted out by M. White, M. Plumer, I. Bennett, J. Gibson, J. Cummings, H. Foster, L. Griffin, J. Macfarlane, F. MacRae, M. J. Mitchell, N. Pierce, and M. Boyker. "Concerto," the most graceful dance of the three, was performed by J. Cole, P. Crane, J. Chipman, P. Goggin, L. Griffin, B. Grandin, R. Judkins, L. MacClintock, M. Plumer, A. Terriberry, and M. White.

Those who acted as judges were Miss Elizabeth Mutch, Mr. Elwood F. Ireland, and Mr. Howard P. Chivers, and the accompanists were Mrs. Elwood F. Ireland, Mrs. Estelle Goggin, and Miss Carolyn Van Dusen.

The Gym Meet's tremendous success and large attendance is credited to the laborious and patient work of Miss Newman.

Track Team Prepares For Heavy Season

Once again spring is here and once again the Mercuries and Herculeses can be seen strutting their stuff any afternoon on the athletic field. Prospects for a third consecutive good season look very good, with several vets returning along with some talented newcomers. Coach Roedrick is back in harness as coach, being assisted by Coach Scott who is paying particular attention to the weight men.

Captain Bill Bowman, Brad Lucas, and Jack Marshall look like a fast mile combination, while Don Walker looks good in the 880. Bovey proved he could swing the discus last year, and now he seems to be one of the formidable in this section of the state. Jerry Davis shapes up well in the weights and in the high jump. Sprinter Bob Lord and hurdlers Andy Sargent and John Greenleaf form a nucleus of speedsters that could prove very hard to beat.

The others who undoubtedly will improve as the season moves along are: Hawley, Giles, Hastings, Brown, Foster, Haines, Jean, Clement, Hertell, Little, Forbes, D. Lord, Bumpus, Scribner, Ireland, D. Hall, P. Wight, Harlow, Dan Bennett, L. Allen, I. Cummings, Howland, Shields, Dan Bennett, Blake, Burnell, McAllister, Melville, Sprague, and Hollie Sturgis, who is ineligible to compete, but helps each his specialty, the high jump.

BASEBALL UNDERWAY

A large group of baseball candidates including seven letter men and eleven of last year's squad showed up at the first baseball practice under the new coaches, George Bowhay and Nick Amato, both former servicemen. The squad has been working hard ever since, stressing bunting, base running, and fielding. Going around the infield we find the following: catching, capable Captain 'Eddie Dorlan and also Bob Croteau; at first base, we have Carl Wight and Sterling Pierce; at second, Bob Parsons and Stan Cole; at third, Louis Wood and Dave Bennett; at shortstop, Red Norwood and Ted Young. In the outfield are Albert Smith, Russ Cram, Dave Stone, Sherm Cole, Wayne Allen and Jimmy Brown. For pitchers we have Red Nor-

HUSKIES EDGED AT SOUTH PARIS 7-6

In a close well-played ball game, Gould's opener last Thursday, the team was barely noised out by a 7-6 margin. The Patriots gained a marker in the first out Dorian's triple in the Gould second led to a two run uprising. From then on it was a saw-saw battle with the Cardinals' copping the verdict in the last of the eighth. Parsons and Dorlan each collected three safeties for the visitors who were held to nine hits by Wouri, the Cardinals ace fliker. The box score:

Gould Takes Norway 8-7

NICK AMATO, '42 HELPS COACH BASEBALL

Back at Gould after serving a hitch in the U. S. Air Corps, Nick Amato is assisting Coach Bowhay in developing a capable baseball aggregation to represent the Blue and Gold this spring. Nick, a crackerjack for ward on Coach Anderson's '42 quintet, also proved to be a sterling centerfielder, back four years ago. His clear thinking and alert mind netted many scalps for the huskies during their '42 campaign.

In the fall of 1942, Nick was entered at the University of New Hampshire, but our belligerent brethren, Tojo and Adolp, cut his education short. The Boston boy was inducted into the Air Corps in March of 1943. After his basic training, he toured France, Germany, and Italy, taking part in some 45 missions. So when peace came in August 1945, Nick was transferred back to the States, and in February he got his honorable discharge. Then back to Gould he came. And now he's doing a great job here at Gould teaching the game he and 40,000,000 other Americans love.

SPORTS QUIZ FEATURES

BOYS' DORM PARTY

The March dorm meeting for the boys of Holden Hall was held on Thursday evening, March 21. This was one of a series of monthly get-togethers with entertainment supplied by one of the masters.

The program was under the charge of Mr. Thompson, who prepared a general sports quiz. The 81 questions included something from all sports and required a good memory as well as a knowledge of sports to be answered correctly. They ranged from horse racing to basketball.

Mr. Scott won the faculty prize with a score of 56 out of the possible 81 and Nick Amato won the boys' prize with a score of 67. Each prize was a box of maple sugar candy.

At the close of the meeting, hot cocoa and appetizing sand-

Gould in its second start of the campaign struck very bad weather conditions and were very fortunate to gain an 8-7 victory from Norway at Alumni Field Saturday. Starting the game in a drizzle, by the time the second inning rolled around the water was dropping fast and hard. The ball was wet and very slippery. The starters, Norwood and Walsh, pitched well enough and under better conditions would have engaged in a hurling duel. The game was slowed up by 12 walks; 7 by Walsh and 5 by Norwood.

The score by innings:
Norway 0 0 2 2-7 5 0
Gould 1 0 5 0-2-8 5 0
Walsh and Allen; Norwood and Dorlan.

GIRLS' SPORTS

This spring the girls have been practicing volleyball regularly every afternoon in the Girls' Gym. After a few weeks of continual practice the teams, consisting of ten girls each and three substitutes were chosen. The best and most skillful girls were selected from each class by the Girls AA Council. All of the games have been played, the last one of which was between the sophomores and seniors. The final rounds of the tournament, which proved very exciting were completed on the evening of the Girls' Gym Meet. The seniors have beaten the juniors and the freshmen; the juniors were defeated by overwhelming odds in every game they played; the sophomores have beaten the freshmen and the juniors; the freshmen were able only to defeat the juniors.

Badminton is coming along quite smoothly now. Out of the thirty odd people who signed up from each class for the tournament, there are approximately fifteen left in each class.

With the Gym Meet over the girls will be signing up for soft-ball and spring tennis.

Wiches were served by the boys to whom Mr Thompson is advisor.
